THE INVIVIBLE THREADS by Montse Torrents & Matilde Portales (Somnins, Spain. 24pp)

With lift the flaps and touch & feel elements

With tender illustrations and a beautiful poetic text, this book talks about all the invisible threads that connect us to the people we love: our family, our friends and all the ones who touch our lives... A gorgeous and very sensitively written book about human relationships. (Board paper. Contains Lift the flaps and textures to touch & feel).

THROUGH THE DARK NIGHT by Laurie Cohen & Hector Dexet (Frimousse, France. 32pp)

Walking through the dark, Tim thinks he can see and hear scary things : a ferocious wolf, a hungry bear about to pounce on him, a monster coming from the future....But every time he turns on his flashlight, he realizes reality is not at all as terrible as he imagined ! A wonderful book, playing with shadows, light and sounds, that allows children to understand that their fears, such as the one of the dark, are always worse than reality.

FANCIFUL MR. SNAKE by Richard Marnier & Aude Maurel (Frimousse, France. 32pp).

There is no reptile more cunning than a hungry rattler! Taking the shape of a three bumps camel, a giant carrot or a two head horse, Mr Snake tricks all the animals around him: a mouse, a rabbit, a tree frog and some innocent nestlings....gobbling them all up one after the other! But as he approaches Mole's home, his luck is about to change...

UP AND UP...by Ingrid Chabbert & Marjorie Béal (Frimousse, France. 32pp)

The story of a little insect that goes up and up on a snake, a tiger, a zebra, a giraffe...Up and up until there isn't anything anymore to climb up on. What will happen then?

HURRY MUM ! by Coralie Saudo & Nicolas Gouny (Frimousse, France. 32pp)

It's time to leave the house but Little dragon is getting very nervous. His mum takes way too long to get ready and he's going to be late !
When she eventually tells him to ease up, he can't bear it anymore and decides to take some drastic action!

IF YOUR NEIGHBOUR IS A WITCH & IF YOU MEET A WOLF IN THE FOREST

The must-have guides to face up all sorts of scary situations!

by Celine Claire & Romain Guyard (Frimousse, France. 32pp per title)

"If your neighbour is a witch": Does your neighbour has a black hat, a verruca on her nose and a black cat on her shoulder? Then she is a witch! But don't panic... this book contains all the advices you need to handle the situation, from switching her broom to a vacuum cleaner, stealing her book of magic spells to turn her into a mammoth's fart and avoiding the temptation of eating her poisoned candies! But will you be able to resist?

"If you meet a wolf in the forest": Have you come face to face with the Big Bad Wolf? Don't panic! This book contains all the advices you need to handle the situation, from taking your little sister with you to fill him up, reading him the story of Little Red Riding Hood or reminding him about the Three Little Pigs and all his other poor victims. And if he starts crying because he finally comes to realize how mean he's been, comfort him as he's not always a big bad wolf.

SLEEP-PHOBIC by Séverine Vidal & Lynda Corazza (Frimousse, France. 32pp)

The perfect book for all children who do not like to go to bed! 27 inventive tips to delay bedtime: from asking mum and dad to read a story again, to demanding a last kiss, going back to the bathroom to brush your teeth, begging them for a glass of water, waking up again to turn the night-light on and much more! For a great moment of reading between parents and their little Sleep-phobic!

LITTLE SPARKLE SERIES (Frimousse, France. 22pp per title)

A series of mini picture books, each featuring a different animal and explaining, in a humorous way, why they are the way they are.

Why do zebras have black stripes? Why do pigs have a curly tail? Why do snakes dance at the sound of music?

*Why do millipedes have so many legs? Find out with those funny little books! Rights sold in China & Korea.

Oh look! Here is Clac the Turtle... Before, she was like this Clac the Turtle...One autumn day, she saw a little tree...

And she thought this was a great place to take a nap. But the leaves of the tree started falling down...Ouch, ouch, ouch! She found herself stuck...

Fortunately, a nice sweeper found and freed her...And gave her his hat as a protection! Now, Clac is the prettiest of all turtles and she is always sheltered when she takes a nap!

THE GREAT ANTONIO by Elise Gravel (La Pastèque, French Canada. 60pp)

Antonio is 20 years old when he arrives in Canada. With 1,93 m and 225 kilos, he is a tall one, and very strong at that! Antonio loves to show his strength. He pulls buses full of people with his hair, and he fights against Japanese champions. His mane is tied into thick braids. With metal rods inside, they become antennas and he can communicate with aliens!

ALPHA by Isabelle Arsenault (La Pastèque, French Canada. Approx. 52pp)

A gorgeous alphabet book based on NATO'S phonetic alphabet. In a style of her own, Isabelle Arsenault puts these words into images, going beyond their usual representation. She carries a new graphic exploration, in a unique palette and deliberate retro style that creates a timeless effect. An innovative concept and a magical book bound to mark the minds everywhere on the planet.

HERE COMES A KISS by Stacey McCleary and David Cornish (Little Hare, Australia. 24pp).

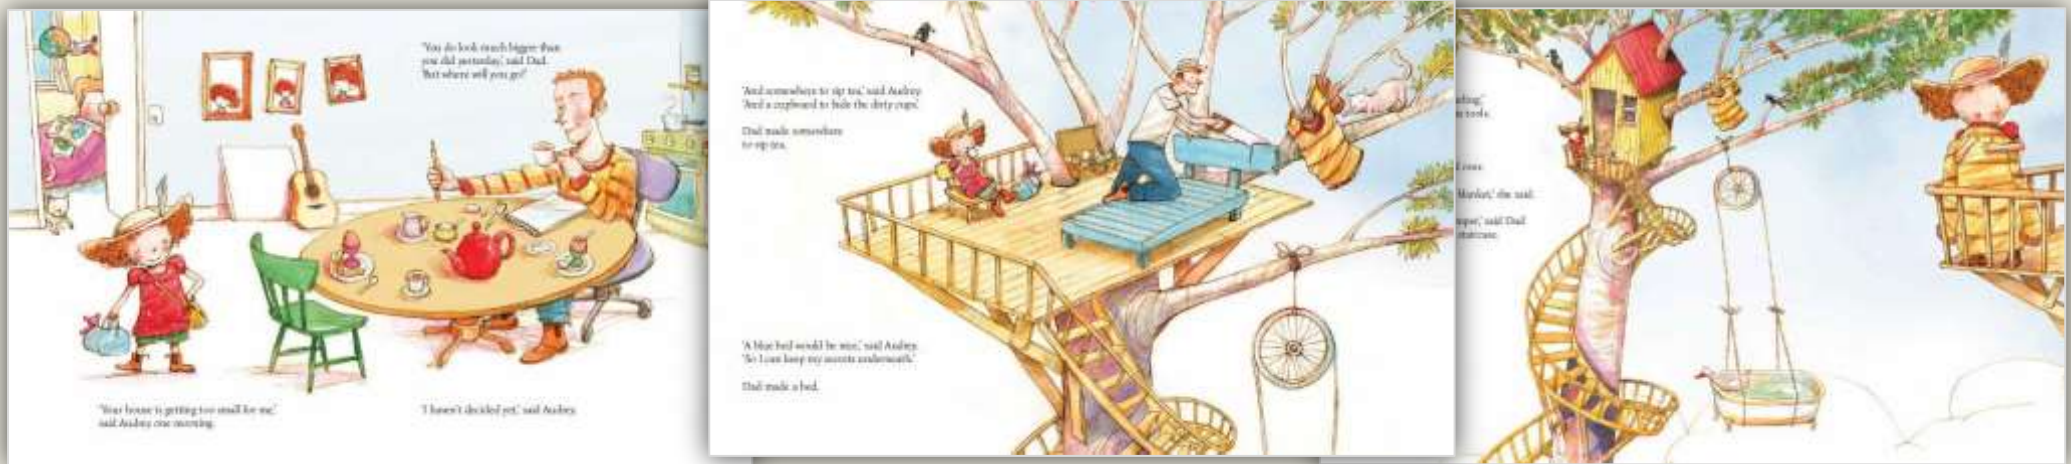

Here comes a kiss - watch where it goes. A kiss for the tip of your sweet button nose.
Children will delight in following the kisses through this gorgeous book - a book that is destined to be memorised by the whole family.

A BABY FOR LOVING by Libby Hathorn and Tamsin Ainslie (Little Hare, Australia. 32pp)

Join this charming family of bears as they delight in each other's company, and in the myriad ways a baby brings joy to everyday life. Libby Hathorn has enchanted readers for a whole generation, and A Baby for Loving is a perfect example of her masterful way with words. Luminous ink paintings by Tamsin Ainslie perfectly encapsulate the gentle pleasures of an afternoon in the garden. Rights sold in Brazil.

A HOUSE OF HER OWN by Jenny Hughes and Jonathan Bentley (Little Hare, Australia. 32pp)

Audrey is bigger than she was yesterday. Now she needs a bigger house. So she tells her dad to build her one. At the top of a tree. It is an ideal house. It has a bathtub for snorkelling, a place to drink tea, and somewhere to hide the dirty cups. The house is perfect in every way. Except for one thing ... A gently humorous story that explores the clash between a quest for independence and the longing for security.

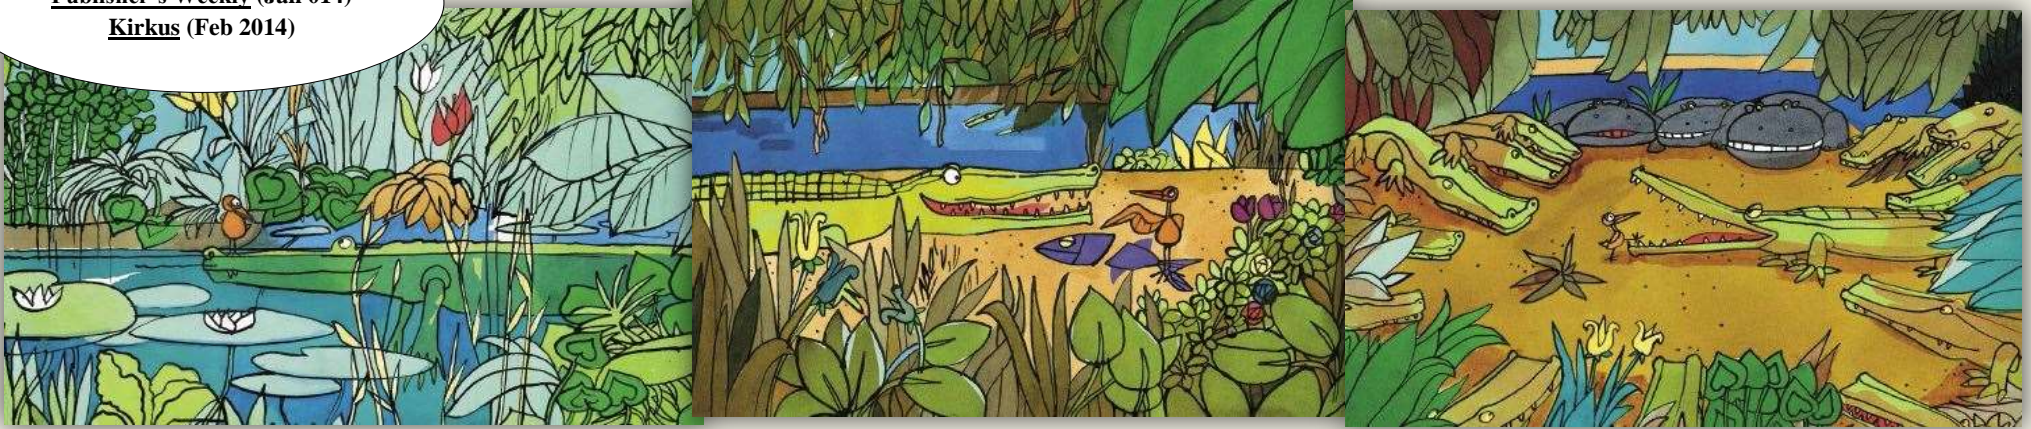

OUTSIDE by Libby Hathorn and Ritva Voutila (Little Hare, Australia. 32pp)

Like the garden it portrays, Outside is a Baroque wonderland waiting to be explored, a shimmering place of texture, luminosity and colour where time stands still and memories are born. Two internationally acclaimed creators (author Libby Hathorn and artist Ritva Voutila) have coupled their dazzling imaginative powers to capture the wonder of childhood in this homage to the magic of a garden.

WINSTON AND GEORGE by John Miller & Giuliano Cucco (Enchanted Lion, USA. 56pp)

US REVIEWS!
Publisher's Weekly (Jan 014)
Kirkus (Feb 2014)

Winston is a patient crocodile and George the bird, though a prankster, the best friend he could ever have. Their story is both sweet and dramatic, for while Winston is willing to tolerate Geoge's mischief, nobody else is. Could it be that community pressure will force Winston to eat George? Could he, would he do such a terrible thing? Created over fifty years ago and found perfectly preserved in an attic, this sweet, entertaining story is vibrantly and gorgeously illustrated.

Fashion of the 20th Century

Are you interested in fashion? Do you know which items of clothing complement each other, and which don't match at all? Do you observe the latest trends? Then you surely must have noticed that people have been interested in fashion from the dawn of time and many current fads have already appeared one time or the other. Let's have a look at how clothes changed in past centuries, how our ancestors invented needles or sewing machines, and mainly how they were able to use them.

This generously illustrated guide will introduce you to the history of fashion from prehistoric times to the present. You'll find when women first started to use make-up, what amazing haircuts were styled during Rococo, that high heels were worn as far back as the ancient Egypt, when pants became a part of women's wardrobes, and that skirts were originally favored by men. Let's not forget the first miniskirts, and how ordinary work pants turned into a hit - jeans.

Apart from full-page colored illustrations, the book offers twenty special little cabinets, fashion magazines, and catalogues. Chapters devoted to particular historical periods are accompanied by overviews summarizing the most interesting fashion facts, concerning for example make-up, haircuts, swimsuits, footwear, or wedding dresses.

Text 260 x 230 mm
(open size spread
520 x 460 mm)

The Animal Atlas, intended for six-year-olds and older children, presents the most interesting animals from all seven continents. Seven folding maps, demonstrating individual continents and accompanied by fifteen booklets, introduce almost 200 most interesting animals from around the world, broken down into typical representatives of each continent. The book shows anything from a common hare to Malayan tapir or Southern elephant seal, presented by beautiful illustrations and intriguing texts. You may know crows and bears, but do you have any idea what a Southern marsupial mole is, or what an opossum does when her life is in danger? Do you know what the animal called greater kudu looks like? If you do, then you must be an amazing little zoologist. If you don't, then our atlas is made just for you.

NUNO DIVIDED IN TWO by Saskia Hula & Eva Muszynski (96pp / 7+. Mixtvision, Germany)

It’s Saturday. One of those new stupid Saturdays. Nuno has packed ALL his things and is waiting for Dad to come and pick him up. Because Mum and Dad have just separated and Nuno will now have to take turns living with each one of them. But not everything goes smoothly...

VINTULATO by Philipp Löhle and Liliane Oser (8+ / 64 pages. Mixtvision, Germany)

A boy who loves the color blue. A dog who is in love with a big-headed cat. And a friend only those two can see and who experiences the most wonderful and craziest adventures of all times with them! One day, Vintulato appeared out of the blue. He taught me how to climb cranes at night, how to skip school and how to dance on the breakfast table. And the fact that no one but me could see him didn’t matter to me at all.

CHOOSE YOUR OWN EVER AFTER... series by various Australian authors (10+ / 256pp - Hardie Grant, Australia)

Series launching with 2 titles (April 2014), a further three titles planned for later in 2014, and another three for 2015

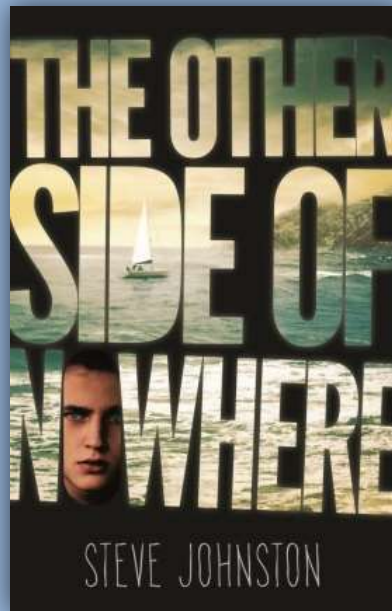

A contemporary choose-your-own series for girls 10+, equally focused on all things happy-making and crushworthy. Underpinning this series is the idea that a girl's destiny is in her own hands. Situations and dilemmas will turn out differently depending on the choices she makes – occasionally predictable, more often not! A pick-a-path series giving the reader the chance to make the decisions, and choose how the story goes!

NOWHERE BOYS by Hilary Badger
(12+ / 304pp. approx. Hardie Grant, Australia)

Four teenage boys are hiking in the bush when they are caught in a freak storm. After surviving the night, the boys expect a hero's welcome, but instead they find that nobody knows who they are. Not their family. Not their friends. They are faced with a town of blank faces and are trapped in a world where they don't exist. Sam, Jake and Andy are desperate to right their lives. They need to figure out how to make things go back to the way they used to be. Only Felix is conflicted: there are certain things about this new world that he likes. But as they grapple with their situation, it becomes clear that other things have been disturbed. A dark force has been unleashed and suddenly the situation becomes desperate. The boys must find a way to right their lives before evil destroys them.

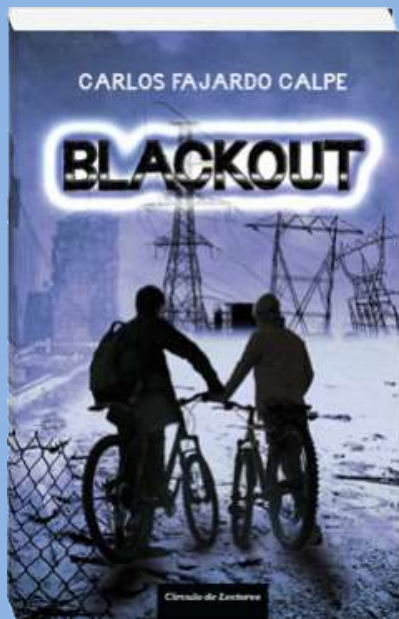

THE OTHER SIDE OF NOWHERE
by Stephen Johnston
(12+ / 304pp. Hardie Grant, Australia)

LOST meets Michael Grant's Gone series, with a dash of Lord of the Flies. The Other Side of Nowhere is a rollicking adventure for the modern age, packed with sharp twists and gut-wrenching excitement. When Johnno and his friends survive the freak storm that rips apart their yacht, they're just glad to be alive. That is, until reality hits: they've washed up on an uninhabited island with few supplies, no phone and no way to get home. The situation becomes even more desperate when the four teenagers discover they are not alone on the island. There's a hideout where men with guns are covering up a dark secret that they will protect at any cost. With nowhere to run, Johnno and his friends are forced into a dangerous game with the criminals as they fight to save one of their own.

SPURT by Chris Miles
(12+ / 336pp. Hardie Grant, Australia)

From this hilarious debut novelist comes Spurt, a novel for teenage boys about faking it till you make it – and what it means to be a man. Jack Sprigley isn't just a late-bloomer. He's a no-bloomer. He's about to start the last term of year nine and puberty is still a total no-show. Worse yet, he hasn't heard from his friends all holidays. He assumes they've finally dumped him and his child-like body – except then he finds out that it's much worse than that. His friends are now so far ahead of him that they've started hooking up and getting girlfriends. Jack is screwed. But then he comes up with a plan to catch up and win his friends back. And his plan is perfect: he just has to fake puberty.

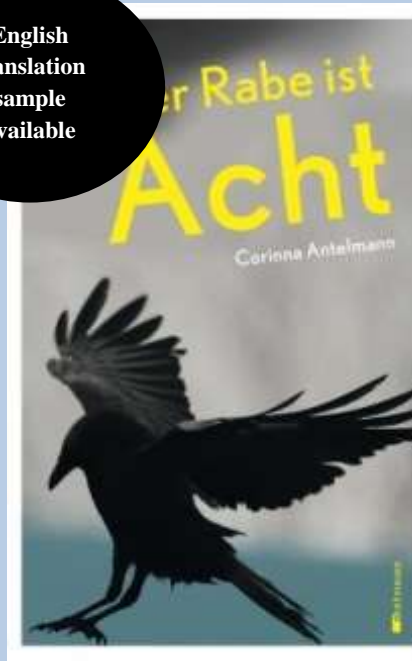

BLACKOUT by Carlos Fajardo Calpe
(12+/300 pages approx .Circulo De Lectores, Spain)

«At seventeen, nobody should risk his life daily»
Forget the world you knew. There is no electricity, no transport, no food in the stores. It's a tough new world, with its own rules. But Lucas and his friends will soon discover that there are more important things than just surviving.

Only a few know what happened that night, four years ago. What we know for sure is that the world we knew doesn't exist anymore... and it's not coming back. For those of us in the valley life means wandering around woods and deserted roads. We search in wrecked cars and ruined houses, looking for anything useful for the community. Sometimes, we found living people. Often, we stumble upon the dead. We must not leave our valley, they say. The world outside is dangerous, they say. A place of violence, suffering, death. But now, the person I love most in the world is in danger, and I'm going to help her no matter what. Even if it means breaking all rules, I'm going to leave this shelter and face the world I left behind... and my own ghosts from the past.

THE DRONE PILOT by Torsten Nesch
(14+/300pp. Mixtvision, Germany)

17-year-old Darius spends his free time playing 'Raid', an ego-shooter computer game. He has no perspective in life until he is contacted about a job opportunity upon completing the game. Darius agrees to meet with the company - it turns out that by playing and completing 'Raid' he underwent a training as a drone pilot. Lacking any alternatives, he accepts the job offer and soon proves to be quite good at his job. His social-minded girlfriend Evelyn is not happy with his choice - she has moral concerns about his involvement. At first, Darius only flies an unarmed drone in his hometown, but being so good at his job he is soon given more responsibility, patrolling borders, then flying armed drones with the mission of destroying ships. But soon he starts questioning himself - is what he's doing really ethical?

Piper Bancroft has been thrown a lifeline: her godmother has set her up with a job at a top fashion magazine in Melbourne. Having ruined her chances of getting into uni, Piper is ready to grasp this opportunity with both hands. But when Piper starts her new magazine job, she's as out of place as her fake Marc Jacobs handbag. Piper's determined to do a great job and prove she's got what it takes to make it. But there's one very large distraction getting in her way: her completely gorgeous, and completely off-limits, boss. He could just be the most perfect man she wishes she'd never met.

TWICE UPON A TIME by Kate Forster
(YA / 384pp. Hardie Grant, Australia)

Cinda's backpacking trip across Europe takes an unexpected turn when she meets the gorgeous Ludo in Italy. Ludo introduces Cinda to the heady world of the super-rich, taking her to parties on yachts and villas all over Europe. Sparks start to fly as Ludo and Cinda spend more and more time together, and even cautious Cinda wonders if there might be something real between them. Then Gus, Ludo's twin brother and heir to the Sardinian throne, arrives to ruin everyone's fun. Gus is obsessed with duty, and having a commoner like Cinda around just isn't part of his plan. But when fate throws Cinda and Gus together, he's astounded to discover that he and Cinda get along well. So well, in fact, that he might be prepared to throw away everything to be with her...
